I PLEDGE ALLEGIANCE TO CHANEY HIGH SCHOOL, MY BELOVED
ALMA MATER, AND TO CHANEY COWBOYS FOR WHICH IT STANDS, ONE ASSEMBLY, TO THE PUBLIC WITH PRIDE AND TRUE COWBOY SPIRIT

... BECAUSE I AM A COWBOY ...

Who says we're too old to dress up on Halloween? As a gimmick for an assembly, the yearbook staff girls dressed up as the beautiful and multi-talented rival cheerleaders. Such beauty did not go unnoticed as they mesmerized both the Chaney audience as well as other onlookers.

The band also had some Halloween fun, when they went to West Elementary School to play for the children's parade.

This particular Friday was one of our best days here at Chaney, for the school let loose with football fever and Halloween fun.

These lovely cheerleaders seem to show a lack of coordination in making a pyramid, but who needs coordination when you've got . . . the spirit!

To an ordinary observer, what is pictured on this page is just a high school band, like any other band . . . assembled on the field, wearing uniforms and hats, and bearing the instrument which they play. But to the trained eye, the eye of a COWBOY, something totally different is seen. The Chaney Cowboy does not see the band assembled on the football field, clad in band uniforms, as it might seem. The Cowboy sees differently. A Cowboy takes one look at the picture, and suddenly the uniforms vanish and the scenery changes. The bright, blue sky is now a sombre mixture of pale orange and yellow, with streaks of red, as the sunset invites the coming dusk. The green grass becomes dry desert earth. The sheer beauty of the horizon is not obstructed by houses and telephone wires; but instead, the silhouette of cacti lies sharply against the evening sky. The band members are no longer wearing uniforms, but plaid shirts and dungarees. In place of the Chaney band hat is a traditional cowboy hat made for the great outdoors. On their feet, they don't wear white band shoes, but leather boots instead. Listen to the jingle of their spurs. Each band member grips a lasso, ready for action. No, it is not a fantasy. It is real. Face it, deep down inside we're all Cowboys. We're set down on this earth for one reason only; to prepare for the journey to that big ranch in the sky. Yes, the layman may think this is just a picture of a high school band. But to the TRUE Cowboy, this group is the very definition of SOMETHING WESTERN, the spirit of Chaney. Look again. Which picture do you see?

... MEANWHILE BACK
AT THE RANCH ...

On October 8, 1981, Marianne Kernan was crowned Homecoming queen at the game between Chaney and Wilson. Marianne's joy was expressed through the gleam in her eyes and her happy smile, as she was crowned traditionally at the half-time ceremony. Sharing this memorable occasion were five attendants: Denise Edgar, Kathy Mikula, Wendy Easton, Paula Higham, and Michelle Crokier.

The dance called for a western mode of dress to this year's theme. Whether stag or with a date, those who attended the dance had a great time and enjoyed the western fiesta.

Memorable moments are branded into the life of a cowboy who really knows how to live it up. The mood of the Cowboys at the Homecoming Dance reflected their inborn love of fun and zest for life. Throughout the dance, Misty entertained, adding music and dance to an already spectacular evening.

THE CAPTIVATING COWGIRLS

If this school year could be summed up in two words, they would have to be "Love it." Events like the Homecoming Dance, the Halloween Parade, the Senior Hayride, and the Powder Puff Football game all pumped life and excitement into what would have been an otherwise ordinary year. No doubt, the seniors are still remembering the many opportunities they had to let loose and break the monotony of study and hard work. Not only did the seniors learn a great deal this year, but they had the time of their lives doing it.

The year is 2002. It is a still night in the country. The subtle creaking of grandpa's rocker can be faintly heard as he sits on the back porch of his quiet home. Somewhere in the distance, the lonely cry of a night hawk pierces the evening air. Other than this, all is still, and the night is a tender one; haunting in its nature and serene in its atmosphere. It is the kind of night that often invites a man to reach back and touch the past; to caress the fonder memories of his lifetime with a melancholy affection.

Little Celia sat on the edge of the porch step a few feet away from her grandfather. On this peaceful night, she kept quiet company with him for all of a half an hour before she finally spoke. "Grampa, is the world a bad place?"

"Sometimes it is, Celia, but we can't always help that."

"But grampa, I'm tired of hearing about the bad things in this world. Can't you tell me a good story?"

"Well, let's see. What do you want to hear?"

"Please tell me about one of your favorite years," little Celia pleaded. Grandpa pondered silently for a moment. His eyes moved slowly across the field ahead until they finally rested on the distant lake. Moonlight flooded the lake's surface, creating a silvery sheen.

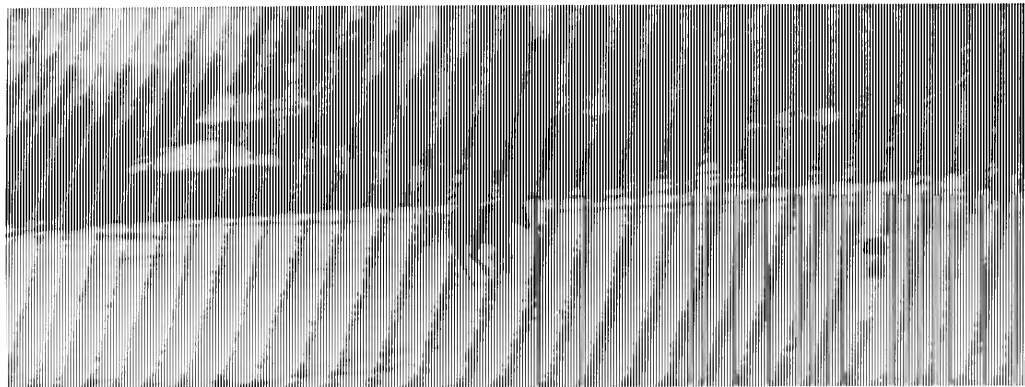

Grandpa then began to speak. "Celia, I have had many happy experiences in my lifetime, but one that particularly stands out in my mind centered around a wonderful place called Chaney High School. It was during the 1981-82 school year. I remember that period well. In the year 1981, Reaganomics became a household word, and the march for the Equal Rights Amendment was going strong. Sandra Day O'Connor became the first woman justice to be appointed to the Supreme Court, and scientists also discovered a link between coffee-drinking and cancer. The strangest thing about that year was that everyone was wearing 'preppy' clothes. Boy, what a fad . . . alligator shirts, little gold and bronze shoes, designer jeans, and big name clothing. The music that kids were listening to was interesting also. Disco died out, and punk rock took its place. Everyone was listening to groups such as the Ramones and the Plasmatics. The year's number one song was written about the charm and appeal of a famous and once very beautiful movie star, Bette Davis. Also, movies like 'Arthur' and 'Vice-Squad' were the popular ones. Oh, and how could I ever forget those video-games! Everyone was playing them.

Things were even more alive at Chaney High School. Everyone was doing Rubik's Cube in study halls. At the time, most clubs in the school were selling candy to raise money, so between the sucker craze and the cubes, teachers were nearly going crazy.

Another interesting event at the beginning of '82 was the 'would-be-strike' by the custodians. Thank goodness that didn't happen. Everyone really had a lot of fun that year. The comedy skits at the pep assemblies kept everyone roaring, and the seniors of that year were rowdy, also. They seemed to take a liking to 'strong waters,' particularly Miller's. There was also a 'love fever' going around the school, which eventually forced the administration to forbid hand-holding, but that didn't stop those devout lovebirds. Still, the best part of the whole year had to be when that refined principal of the school actually took a pie in the face. What a moment!

Celia sat on the step, staring at her grandfather with curious, delighted eyes. "That's a funny story," she said. "I like it when you tell me about the old days. But tell me one thing, grampa, who was that principal who got a pie thrown at him?" "I'll never tell," said grandpa.

The night remained as hauntingly calm as it had been when grandpa began his story, and the moonlight's shine on the lake had faded slightly because of a light haze which covered the moon. Now, the wind began to blow gently, and the trees swayed obligingly as Alex Murphy and his granddaughter went into the house to retire for the evening.

A hayride sound corny? Maybe, but don't knock it until you try it. Ask any senior. We loved it! In the early evening of October 24, about eighty rowdy, screaming cowboys, and cowgirls flocked the school parking lot. From there, they prepared to hit the trails for Uncle Carl's, and head out West for one of the best times of their lives. HAY, SENIORS!

One look at these faces, and you'll believe what we've suspected all along The 1981-82 school year brought smiles to the faces of our hard-working seniors.

AT DAY'S END

Is anybody happier because you passed his way?

Does anyone remember that you spoke to him today?

The day is almost over, and its toiling time is through;

Is there anyone to utter now a kindly word of you?

Can you say tonight, in parting with the day that's slipping fast,

That you helped a single brother of the many that you passed?

Is a single heart rejoicing over what you did or said?

Does the man whose hopes were fading, now with courage look ahead?

Did you waste the day, or lose it? Was it well or sorely spent?

Did you leave a trail of kindness, or a scar of discontent?

*As you close your eyes in slumber, do
You think that God will say,*

"You have earned one more tomorrow by the work you did today?"

CHANNEY SAYS GOODBYE TO A SPECIAL COWBOY

In the fall of 1981, Gabriela Baldisserotto had one of the most heart-warming experiences a person can have. She saw her mother for the first time in ten months. Gabriela, a foreign exchange student here at Chaney, arrived on February 15, 1981. She has not seen her family since then, and was overjoyed when her mother came to visit her for a two-week stay. Gabriela admits she was a bit apprehensive about the arrival of her mother, because she has grown and changed so much as a person since she arrived here. Gabriela wasn't sure how her mother would react. As it turned out, her mother was extremely happy and very emotional when she saw Gabriela. Mrs. Baldisserotto, who is a biology teacher in Brazil, speaks a little English. Her native language is Portuguese, and Gabriela, having become used to the English language, had a little trouble relating to her mother in Portuguese at first. Gabriela, who is from Caxias de Sul, Brazil, originally came to the United States because she wanted to experience the difference between the two countries. When she first arrived here, she didn't have much of a chance to feel homesick, because there were so many things to learn and discover in Youngstown. From Gabriela's point of view, the United States and Brazil are very different from one another. The differences range from minor ones, like the fact that Brazil doesn't have vending machines, to major ones, like the vast difference in the interests of the country's youth. The only thing that really disappointed Gabriela about the United States was prejudice, which she had hoped to see less of.

WE LOVE YOU, GABI!

Since Gabriela arrived here, she had been keeping a daily journal to record her experiences. Gabriela, who was staying with Mr. and Mrs. Neil Buzzacco, likes to read, play the piano, and collect Brazilian stamps in her spare time. Although she has learned a great deal here at Chaney, Gabriela feels that she has learned the most important things not from books, but from the world around her.

During her stay here, she has had priceless experiences in human relationships that she will never forget.

A MEMORY FOREVER
TUESDAY, JUNE 1, 1982

COMMENCEMENT

*Ode to 82', as it will be but a moment in our lifetime.
To recapture, as in a dream, the reality of what was,
And the illusions we dreamt for the future.
To recall, in a sense, the essence of Nature in all of us,
And to return to the places we will always remember
And call Home.*

To the graduating senior, commencement is the most important and well-remembered event with his fellow classmates. On June 8, 1982, Chaney seniors stepped forward to receive their diplomas and made a giant step in their maturing lives. Speakers Ross DeGise, James Jarvis and Principal Alex Murphy gave congratulatory remarks and advice, and Reverends William Webb and George Hutynan gave the prayer and benediction. Yet, nothing was more thought-provoking than speeches given by salutatorians, Cathy Baker and JoAnn Kovalan and valedictorian, Joyce Antal, who gave well-wishes and showed that tomorrow's people were ready to accept the challenge of the future.

Through all the joy at receiving diplomas and being "freed" from high school obligations, the faintest hint of sadness was shown in eyes that sparkled, as the realization that "it" had all come to an end with the final recession as the class of 82'.

Chaney High Juniors, we salute you. For helping to fire the cannon of knowledge into the minds of sophomores and freshmen. For braving the chaotic hallways between classes in your determined effort to get to class on time, so as not to annoy your teacher. For giving an "arm and leg" for your school at football games when you stomp and cheer. For looking up to the seniors as though they were first rank officers. For following their example of conscientious study efforts. But most of all, we salute you for showing the spirit of a "True Cowboy." For dressing up western during our "Spirit Week" and for wearing your Chaney jackets everywhere you go to show 'em who we are and what we're made of. By following the example of the seniors and setting it for the freshies and sophs, you become the real heroes of Chaney. Ride 'em, Cowboys!

Chaney sophomores are an especially spunky group of individuals, most likely because they have already had one year to adapt to the "Cowboy feel" and get into the true spirit of Chaney. Being the first freshman class here, they were at first shy and unfamiliar with life at our ranch, but after one year they abandoned their timid ways. Soon, though, the day will come when they will have to leave these familiar grounds. They will look back and remember their sophomore year as being the time when they took a giant step forward- onto Cowboy soil. And you can bet that they'll be kicking up plenty of dust all the way!

God said "Let there Be Detention" and behold, Room 222 appeared.

Detention after school in Room 222 is the administrations way of saying that they can't get enough of Chaney students. Obviously, they feel the need to see more of them than the required seven hours. After school, they lock the chosen ones up a room and stare in admiration at their angelic, intellectual faces. The truth is, though, that detention is the only time when freshmen, sophomores, juniors, and SENIORS congregate together in one room. It is a known fact that the faculty loves the students so much, they don't waste any opportunities giving out detentions. By next year, teachers are expected to go as far as to give out detention for sneezing, dropping a book, losing a button, or saying "The Board doesn't have any money," in the presence of a teacher. All of these little opportunities will provide teachers with a chance to give students more detentions and see them longer. In fact, rumor has it that the school administration is considering a new program called "weekend detention". This would provide teachers with an opportunity to help out students who have accumulated a large number of detentions by letting them serve them out over the weekend. Teachers and students would camp out in sleeping bags in the hallways. Isn't this proof enough that teachers show their love for us through detention?

"A Detention-Weary Cowboy"

FIRST CLASS . . .

As part of an annual spring competition, area students participated in the Youngstown State University English Festival. Chaney competed, and returned with many winners.

The honored Candace Gay Memorial Essay Contest was won by junior David Welshhans, with Tom Brooks and David McGuire, also juniors, placing second and fifth. David Welshhans and Tom Brooks also placed in the analytic and imaginative essays. Janet Misel placed first in language games, and in the writing games LaChelle Lawrence and Wendy Parker brought back a first and third place.

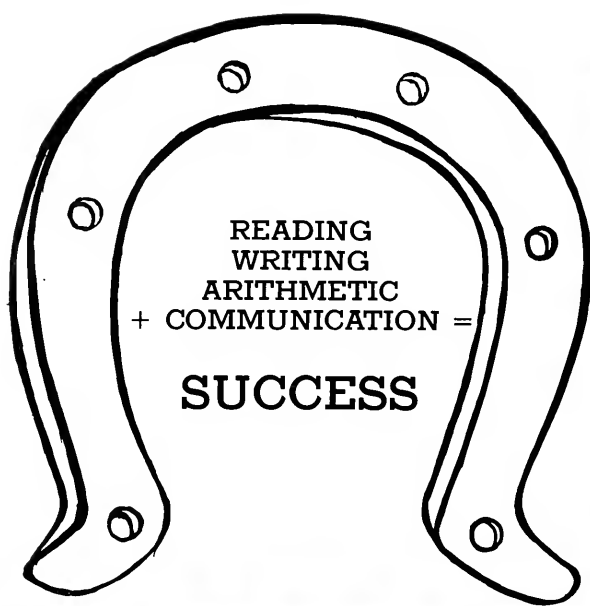

The English Festival also included our multi-talented Freshmen, who without disappointment, received top honors. Ed Kennedy placed first in analytic writing and fourth in the book quiz. Susan Bindas, Mary McKinna, and Linda Fetchel each placed in the analytical and imaginative essays.

Congratulations and much more success, winning Cowboys!

To become a winner, one must be patient and persevering, for only those who are enduring are rewarded in this life, and in the next.

Success! Yeah!

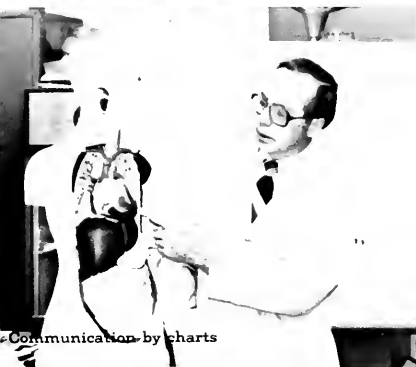

The three R's help us to find success. Donna Mesarich found it when she traveled to Tennessee to participate in National COE Competition. Joe Caffey found it when he and "Leroy" competed in a contest for young ventriloquists. Bert Gray found it when he was elected Youngstown's Mayor of the Day as a result of his oratorical skills. The freshmen at Chaney are unique. From the moment they walk in the door for the first time, they try their hardest to get the "Cowboy feel". Yet, feeling like a true Cowboy is something that takes time. The freshmen, however, really do a fine job of adapting. Consider the situation each is in. A freshman is given the task of adjusting from the role of a leader in junior high to being a mere tender foot in high school. They're bound to be shaking in their boots, yet they soon learn to find their way around our "L-shaped trail." Freshies, stick with it! The school values and admires your spirit. When the time comes for you to leave the ranch, you'll at least know that in your heart, a part of it will remain with you . . . always.

The young and inexperienced basketball squad had a poor campaign but still gave it their best throughout the season. The team was 4-16 in regular season and 1-7 in city play finishing tied for last with Wilson. The Cowboys scored victories over Struthers, East Palestine, Wilson, and Hubbard. Chaney fell to Boardman in the "AAA" sectional tournament to close out the season. Three Nonstarting seniors Jim Bartell, Paul McQueen and Phil Crenshaw leave the squad. The team does return eight varsity members next year. Coach Burich will begin his third and probably most successful season as the Chaney mentor next season.

The Girls Basketball squad ended a unsuccessful season of 4-14 finishing fourth in city play. Four seniors Jerri Talley, Pam Doward, Tracy Sullivan, and Latonya Randolph leave the squad. All were two and three year players for the Cowgirls. Senior Jerri Talley was a second team choice for all city while Tracy Sullivan and Pam Doward were honorable mention picks. The team had moments of brilliance but lost too many close games that hurt them in their quest for the city title. Eight varsity members return next season as the experience gained this year will help them to better their record next season. The team fell to Beaver Local in class "AAA" sectional tournament held at the end of the season.

WEAK SEASON CONCEALS REAL SUCCESS

The 1981 Football Season was a frustrating one; the Cowboys finishing with a 3-6 record. Still, there were many exciting moments that the players, coaches, and fans will never forget.

The 81 season marked an end for sixteen seniors, who will never forget or regret the good and bad times that they experienced the past three years. They were years filled with dreams, hard work, and dedication, all geared towards becoming winners, both on and off the field.

Throughout the season the Cowboys were kept in every game with a strong defense, which became even stronger once it was backed up against its own goal line.

The highlights of the season began against the Boardman Spartans. Throughout the first half, the Cowboys couldn't sustain a drive, and had to rely on their goal line defense to turn back the high powered offense of Boardman. Both teams went into their locker rooms scoreless throughout the first half.

In the second half, the Cowboys offense exploded for 19 points, while its defense continued to shut down the Spartans for the remainder of the game. David Iman and Mike Zordich scored the first two touchdowns, both on 1 yard runs. The final touchdown came on a Mike Zordich pass to Tom Olsavsky, which covered 29 yards. Ron Pasquale's conversion added the final tally to the game.

The next win for the Cowboys came in another defense of struggle against Warren Western Reserve. Throughout the game the Raiders drove to the Cowboys goal line but were repeatedly turned back in the fashion which became the Cowboys' trade mark. The winning mark came in the fourth quarter, when Jim Kula sacked the Raider signal caller for 13 yards and forced a fumble on the play. Mark Pesut recovered the fumble on Warren's 35 yard line. Two plays later, Mike Zordich hit Jim Kapturasky with a 30 yard pass. Then four plays later, with ten minutes left in the final quarter, Ron Pasquale kicked the winning field goal.

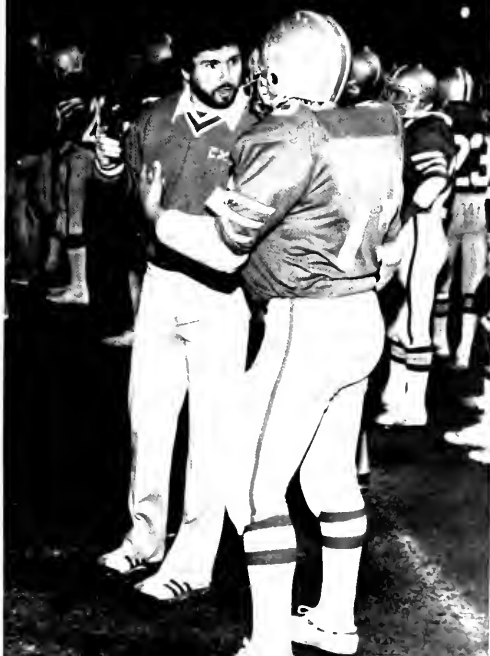

Against Rayen it was again the Chaney defense which brought home the win for the Cowboys. The Cowboys got off on the wrong foot in the first quarter after receiving the kickoff. The offense couldn't register a first down and Ray Clement came in to punt. Rayen returned the punt all the way for a touchdown. The remainder of the first quarter ended with neither team gaining an advantage. Ray Clement's punting finally began to take a toll on the Tigers, as they began to be pushed back towards their own goal line. Next, twice in the second quarter, Mark Pesut exploited a flaw in the Tigers punting formation and raced in two blocks and two punts. The first recovered by Bob Korandovich, on the one yard line, which on the very next play Mike Zordich bulled his way over for the score. The second blocked kick was recovered by Jim Kula in midair, and he raced to the endzone with the last and deciding score of the game.

It should be mentioned that the 1981 Football Team played valiantly, not only in victory but in defeat as well. There were also many unsung heroes, both in and out of uniform.

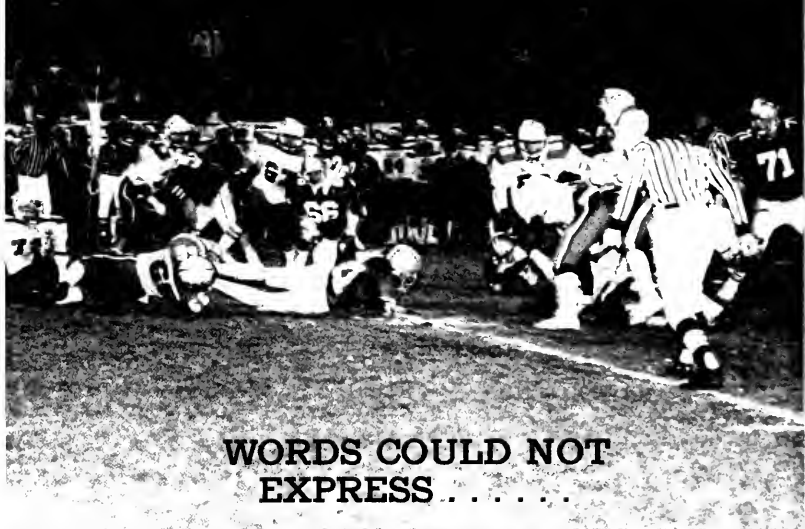

In conclusion, the seniors on the 1981 team would like to wish the best of luck to next year's team.

CHANEY 0 STOW 2

The 1981-1982 Girl's Volleyball squad won six of the twelve matches in City Series play, finishing third. The team was unable to compete against non-city schools because of the financial cutbacks that started this year in the school system. The team did compete in tournament play, bowing out to Stow the eventual State "AAA" Champions in the first round of the sectionals. The loss of seven senior spikers will hurt the team; however seven varsity squad members will return next season. Coach Garcar was very proud of this year's squad and expects the city title to return to Chaney next season.

The Cowboys showed promise with the consideration that they are a young team. Finishing third in the city to South and Rayen respectively, the young men had some standouts. Leaders in the running events were Bob Nall, Bill Robertson, and Ellis Cathey. In field events it was John Greene, Don Smith, and John Jones. There were also two records that were broken. Bob Nall, a sophomore, broke the previous time of 10.9 for the 100 meters and John Greene, another sophomore, broke the high jump record of 6'2 with a jump of 6'2 1/2. A record which was established was for a new event, the two-mile relay, with a time of 8:37.6. The relay team consisted of Don Kalenits, Ed Kerp sack, Illya Smith, and Bill Robertson.

The Chaney girls weathered through a challenging season, with a record of 1 win, and 5 losses. Considering the large number of inexperienced underclassmen, the Cowgirls shone through with an inspiring degree of determination and a little bit of that Cowboy pride. Michelle Tesone broke the school record for the 100 meter hurdles with a time of 16.8. Medal winners in running events were as follows; Michelle Tesone, Gold, Denetta Rozenblad, Silver, and Tammy Van Deventer, Bronze. In the field events the winners were Sheila Watkins taking the gold, and Debby Eitemiller and Jodi Knapic taking the silver and bronze respectively.

The Chaney Golf team ended the 1981 season with a 6-2 mark finishing second in the City Series. Sophomore Dave Petruzzi had the Cowboys low stroke average and was the team's medalist. The squad was comprised of 15 members, and with only one senior the Cowboys all have promising link futures. Under Coach Angelo's reign the squad had won eight consecutive city titles before being dethroned by Wilson this season. The proposed financial cuts will eliminate Golf in the City Series, but let's hope it can be restored in future years.

The 1982 tennis squad won the City title for the 11th time in 12 years under the coaching of John Wendle.

The team was undefeated in city play and compiled an overall record of 7-11.

Four of the team's losses were by the mere margin of 3-2. A dedicated team, they practiced all winter long before school in the gym and after school at the Youngstown Racquet Club. Two of the 13 members, Bill Topich and Mark Sulek, were seniors. Topich was the only three year starter and played number one singles for the Cowboys. Sulek gave a strong performance at second singles and was vastly improved from his junior year. The sectionals were disappointing as the Cowboys were unable to send anyone to the districts. Financial cutbacks in the school system may possibly eliminate tennis from the spring sports slate next season.

In February, Dave Petruzzi and Linda Sefcik were named the club's king and queen for the 1981-82 school year. The club members competed in various competitions held at Y.S.U. Another change in the Italian Club was its size. This past year the club's number of members had nearly doubled, making it the largest club at Chaney.

The French Club, under the leadership of Mrs. Barsodi, kept up with French tradition throughout the year by bringing French history to the club members. The activities that the club participated in included educational field trips to various museums in Pittsburgh. In March, the club competed in a Y.S.U. Language contest, from which sophomore Paul Nachim emerged a first place winner.

The Chaney Latin Club consisted of six members, all of whom were officers. The club participated in fund raising projects, a language contest held in April at YSU, and also in Foreign Day. Mr. Walsh the club Advisor, saw to it that the club functioned in keeping with the culture and traditions of the ancient Romans. The Latin Club was also unique in the fact that they were the first and only school club to design their club flag.

C.O.E.

Cooperative Office Education is a program designed for seniors interested in business and secretarial work. The qualifications for C.O.E. primarily include business and secretarial courses, as well as advanced skill in typing.

C.O.E. students are instructed in the operation of several office machines, which include adding machines, IBM key-punch machines, ditto machines, and transcribers. Filing, typing, and proper telephone usage are also part of the C.O.E. curriculum. In addition, the students are taught the importance of personal grooming in relation to professionalism in the office.

Following their morning classes, C.O.E. students leave school each day to report to their individual jobs. The primary purpose of the Cooperative Office Education program is to develop office personalities in its members. In addition to gaining experience, the students are also paid for the work they do.

The activities that C.O.E. participated in this year included a Tri-county picnic, a visit to the Omni Manor Nursing Home, two field trips to the U.S. Post Office, and a tour of the IBM Corporation. They also took part in the secretarial competition at the Mahoning County Joint Vocational School on February 6. In this competition, Donna Mesarich took second place, which made her eligible for state competition in Columbus.

For a little fun and recreation, C.O.E. attended the Business Office Education Regional Convention in February at Salt Fork Lodge in Cambridge, Ohio. Also, during the Christmas season, the group dressed as elves during school and sang for the nursing home residents later in the day.

The Intensive Office Education, I.O.E., is a class consisting of juniors who are interested in secretarial work. The Lariettes, the Chaney danceline, gives girls an opportunity to gain experience in group marching and dancing. They perform separately or as part of the marching band. The Lariettes practice regularly at 6:00 p.m. during the football season and at 7:10 a.m. during the basketball. When the girls aren't performing at basketball games, the junior Lariettes work at the concession stand. After holding several fund raisers, the Lariettes were able to sponsor the Homecoming dance and a spaghetti dinner for the football players' parents. This year the Lariettes took part in the Y.S.U. Homecoming parade where they won a trophy for best marching unit. They also participated in the Christmas parade downtown with the marching band. As an added enjoyment, the danceline was invited to join the festivities welcoming Eddie DeBartolo back to Youngstown after his team, the San Francisco 49ers, won the Super Bowl XVI. They were also on hand to welcome the World Lightweight Champion "Boom Boom" Mancini back home. In July, the Lariettes will be featured in the rotogravure, section of the Youngstown Vindicator.

They added a new feature to their routine, performing at school pep assemblies. In addition to this, they marched with the band in the Christmas parade in downtown Youngstown and at Cedar Point. The head majorette, Tina Zucco, made up the routines and acted as advisor to the majorettes during the year.

FLAGLINE

The 1981-82 flagline Squad was kept very busy this year performing at football games, pep assemblies and practicing daily. The Flagline members also marched with the band in the Santa Claus parade, the Veterans' Day Parade, the St. Patrick's Day Parade, and the annual trip to Cedar Point. The squad, consisting of seven seniors and two juniors, held many fund raisers and succeeded in earning enough money to buy new flags. The flagline received many compliments on their performance, with special recognition for their routine to "Fame".

This year, the Chaney Choir performed at various churches and schools throughout the city. These included St. Christine, Volney Rogers, and West Elementary, and also they caroled in halls here at Chaney during the Christmas season. The choir's most memorable experience was their live broadcast over WFMJ radio at the Southern Park Mall, for the "Five and Dime" Christmas Fund.

Have you ever wondered about the purpose of the Chaney Choir? Each year, they strive to promote the art of good choral singing and they work for the furtherance of serious music in the Youngstown Public Schools. This past year, they have helped to do so by presenting spring concerts at various elementary schools throughout the city.

CHANEY CHORALE

The Chaney Choral is a special group of choir members selected primarily on the basis of their musical abilities. This select group meets before school for rehearsals. Although they receive no academic credit for this activity, they are afforded many opportunities to travel throughout the community to perform.

This year's chorale appeared on the "Good Morning Youngstown" Christmas show. They also performed for senior citizens groups as well as public schools throughout the city. The members of the chorale deserve to be commended for their hard work and efforts in giving life to notes on a page.

TOUR CHOIR INVADES CANADA

Hello Canada! From Chaney Choir, Youngstown, Ohio.

Where ARE we?!

Cheryl and Mary catching some shut-eye . . . Singing is tiring business!

Do you hear singing in the back of the bus?

Hey, where's this bus headed, anyway?

I'm afraid of heights!

The Tour Choir visited Toronto, Canada in May. Before arriving in Toronto, they stopped in Erie, Pennsylvania to perform at a high school there. In Toronto, they sang on the steps of City Hall. The group stayed overnight at Holiday Inn.

The choir had a great time and will always remember "Awesome Al" the bus driver!

O.W.E. is Occupational Work Experience. This program offers those students who have not developed an interest in regular academic classes another direction to follow. O.W.E. has many objectives for the student-worker to fulfill. Student-workers day consists of 90 minutes of related O.W.E. information, other required classes, and the minimum of 15 hours of on-the-job experience per week. They are planning their Employee-Employer Appreciation Banquet to be held at the Georgetown on April 13. O.W.E. is considered to complement the curriculum here at Chaney and is another attempt by the administration and faculty to meet the individual needs of the student body.

O.W.A.

O.W.A. is Occupational Work Adjustment. This program is designed to reorient and motivate the students toward education. And to prepare them for academic and vocational achievements in high school. It is also armed at helping youth to begin preparing themselves for the world of work. O.W.A. attempts to motivate the student's attitude so they will aim at higher levels of achievement. This can be accomplished by arranging suitable employment. O.W.A. has taken part in a field trip to the Juvenile Justice Center and they are also planning their Employee-Employer Appreciation Banquet to be held at Mr. B's on May 12. O.W.A. is a realistic approach in bringing together employers who need inexperienced worker and these young people who are prepared to accept the responsibilities of a job.

The Chaney Cheerleaders have been successful in proving that cheerleading is a sport in itself. Practicing throughout the summer and during football and basketball season, the girls radiated energy for the pep assemblies, football games, and basketball games.

In August, the varsity cheerleaders received first place for "Best Squad" at the Golden Eagle Camp in West Virginia. Monique Zordich was named "Best Cheerleader" at the camp. The Junior Varsity girls received the "Best Squad" award at the Salem High Cheerleading Clinic in October. Jennifer Pignatelli was honored with the "Best Cheerleader" title at the clinic.

In addition to selling pizza to raise money for their uniforms, they participated in other fund-raising projects to pay the expenses for the cheerleading clinics and locker room decorations. Thanks, Cowgirls, for boosting our spirits all year.

The National Honor Society of Chaney High is in existence for more reasons than simply to promote superior academic performance. The organization volunteers services to individuals and groups in need of help and it also helps to instill civic pride in its members. To raise money, the N.H.S. held bake sales and a roller skating party. They also participated in a flea market in the school gymnasium. As far as service projects are concerned, N.H.S. took on the responsibility of the canned food drive, Teacher Appreciation Day, and donations to the Salvation Army at Christmas. At the Annual N.H.S. Induction Ceremony held in March, four seniors spoke on different topics of interest to N.H.S. and its members. Karen Girts spoke on Character, Cathy Baker spoke on Scholarships, Joanne Kovalan spoke on Leadership, and Cathy Billy addressed the subject of Service.

The candlelight ceremony also featured Mr. Murphy, our principal, and Mr. Guzman, a Board of Education member, as speakers.

ART CLUB DRAWS ATTENTION

The Chaney Art Club, one of the busiest groups in the school, provides us with a better understanding of art through the posters, pennants, bumper-stickers, and portraits that the students create. The Art Club made the "Go-Go" Chaney ribbons, the school levy ribbons, and the homecoming ribbons, as well as the school passes for the library, cafeteria, A.V. department, and office. In addition to this, the club made the Y.S.U. English Festival posters and the "Pride is Chaney" posters. In the "Keep Christ in Christmas" contest, Kathy Mikula won first prize, and Carla Tobis, sophomore, received an honorable mention. The Art Club also displayed entries at the "Walk on Wick" festival in May, and at the Congressional Art Competition in June.

At the Scholastic Art Awards Competition at Y.S.U., Dave Ragan won two New York Blue Ribbon Awards. Mark Czifra had three entries in the contest; Bill Czifra and Kathy Mikula received New York Blue Ribbons. This has been an excellent year for Chaney art.

The main purpose of the Medical Careers club is to help students who are interested in any career which touches the Medical/Dental areas to learn more about these services, how they function and the degree of training required to enter them.

MEDICAL CAREERS CLUB

All of this took place after an enjoyable and educational tour through Ashly. Then the students and the residents had some punch and cookies made by the students.

The picture on top is of the students outside waiting to go to Ashly with their cookies in their hands.

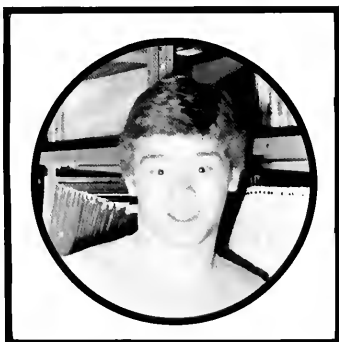

The audio-visual assistants were a welcomed "friend" to the 1981-82 teaching staff. Not only did they assist in the distribution and collection of A.V. equipment, but they were always ready to lend a helping hand to any minor electrical catastrophies. This service kept the audio team on-the-go throughout the year.

BOOK ROOM WORKERS

The Bookroom Boys play a very important part in the school. They are the people who are in charge of distributing books at the beginning of the year and collecting them at the end of the year. They make sure all books are neatly stored away until the next school year.

CHOFFIN

The Choffin Career Center was designed to give high school students skills necessary to get employment in today's world. All Youngstown students are eligible to attend in their Junior and Senior years. Most courses are two year programs. A student spends one-half day at Choffin and the other half at his home school. Choffin serves as an extension of the home school courses. Choffin students who meet requirements will be awarded a vocational certificate from the State of Ohio.

SPEECH TEAM

The Speech Team this year had a very successful season. They won several awards within the city, as well as awards in neighboring districts.

Tom Brooks placed first in the Buckeye Elks Lodge 73 Speech Competition. Janet Misel and George Lesnansky also competed in Cincinnati at Princeton University for the State Speech Tournament.

Seven Members of the Speech Team, Missy Hulton, Judi Balough, Becky Tally, Janet Misel, George Lesnansky, Tom Brooks, and John Maxgay are two-year members of the team. Together with the team, they have helped to make this a fine year for speech.

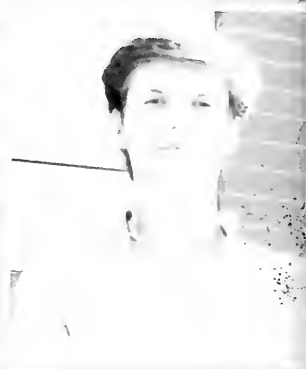

The Speech Team's success was due mainly to their hard work and efforts, which included MANY hours of practice. Congratulations to the Speech Team and to Mr. Cassano for his fine job of coaching.

The Action Council's community and school involvement was clearly seen this year. Among their activities, the members of the Action Council successfully sponsored a blood drive, a service to the entire community. The 1981-1982 school year proved successful in fulfilling the purpose of The Action Council, which is; to assist in school and community activities; to promote ways of improving school and community citizenship; and to encourage closer cooperation among students, faculty, and administration with the aim of improving the quality of school life.

Key Club

KEY CLUB

The Key Club is just one of the many fine organizations at Chaney which take an active part in community affairs. The students at Chaney are able to display their talents in the Key Club's annual talent show. They also attend weekly Mill Creek Kiwanis Luncheons. The 1981-1982 school year brought about school repairs which were brought about by the Key Club. They replaced the link fence that runs across the front yard of the school. therefore, the Key Club plays a major part in contributing to the needs of the school, and to the surrounding community.

The Chaney Drama Department's spring production of "Bear Witness," a dramatic mystery play, held not only suspense for the audience, but also excellent sound effects. The realistic aura that the players projected enriched the already intriguing plot that dealt with the fear of crime and its relation to personal ethics.

ADMINISTRATION

What is a teacher? A teacher is a symbol of wisdom, of knowledge and of leadership. Teachers are the pillars that support the entire building. Since the beginning of time, teachers have been looked upon for support and encouragement by youths who possess a driving desire to quench their thirst for knowledge.

In kindergarten, the teacher is the one who helps you tie your shoe, and the one who doesn't laugh at you when you walk into the wrong restroom because you cannot read yet. In first grade, the teacher introduces you to the wonderful world of words. In the fourth grade, the teacher is the one who makes you proud that you can do long division. In sixth grade, the teacher gives you extra support and encouragement to help you through those rough times of acne and infatuation. In ninth grade, the teacher helps you realize that although you are just a yearling, you really have come a long way. In twelfth grade, the teacher is the one who tells you, "You CAN become whatever you want to."

Teachers throughout the ages have received THEIR instructions and examples from the ancestors of their profession Plato, Socrates, and Aristotle.

We may not have Plato, Socrates, or Aristotle now, but with men like Mr. Murphy, Mr. Terlesky, and Mr. Lutsi to lead us here at Chaney, how can we ever falter?

Mr. Alex Murphy, Principal

Mr. Joseph Lutsi, Asst. Principal

Mr. William Terlesky, Asst. Principal

WITH LOVE TO MY NIECE, SARAH PEARCH

Old Cowboys never die

Like our old jeans they just take to fadin'. But in their minds they know they've had their chance to be that restless rider, and they've sharpened their spurs for the long, hard journey ahead. And in their hearts they know that there's a few times to get thrown, but they just dust their chaps off and finish the ride, no matter how bad the bucking is.

Future Cowboys have yet to live, have yet to breathe that sweet prairie air. Although they are country miles apart, the young hayseeds feel the same kind of anticipation that their counterparts possessed when they filled their young boots.

The same pride is branded in every cowboy, young or old, they know to carry on the spirit and the determination to lasso what they want in life.

That's what being a cowboy is all about.

Finally they ride off into the sunset, entering a whole new open plain waiting to be explored, but leaving behind happy trails of tears, laughter, and lots of memories. They've had the chance of a lifetime, they've had the chance

ROCKIN' IN 82'

On March 18, the first annual Freshmen-Sophomore dance, sponsored by the Yearbook Staff, was held in the school gym. Students danced and jammed the night away to the sound of Road Work, whose music turned the dance into a success.

Likewise, on May 28, a spring concert, also sponsored by the Yearbook Staff, featured the popular and talented Infinity, whose dynamic heavy metal sound filled not only Chaney halls, but the surrounding neighborhood area.

All can agree that music is a universal language, especially here at Chaney!

*Don't have to worry anymore-
It has begun again
Rising from the depths far below-
The music makes you One with all
When the band begins to play.*

Thank You, Mr. Cassano, for all of your help, encouragement,
PATIENCE, and most of all, your love.

TEACHER FEATURE

GOVERNMENT DOES WORK FOR US

Hey, Chaney students! Aren't you wondering why you've suddenly started loving school? Well, read on . . . During the 1981-82 school year, Mr. DiRenzo was the coordinator of a special teacher-oriented program designed to improve student attitudes toward education. Under this government funded program, teachers learned sneaky, underhanded methods to incorporate into their teaching that would help us WANT to do our schoolwork and actually LOVE learning in general. The grant provided workshops and materials for the program. The end result, it seems, is that we all love school. Good job, Mr. DiRenzo!

And that's not all. Our government has done more for us. Mr. Remias will now be teaching IPLE Government, a course made possible through a government grant. The purpose of IPLE Government is to familiarize students with the practical aspects of government. It stresses involvement in voter registration, political campaigns, and local issues. The course also deals with setting up model Congresses and studying civil rights and Constitutional law.

Through yet another government grant, Mr. Erickson has received two TRS-80 Radio Shack computers for aid in teaching a new course, Algebra II with Computers. This course is designed to help those students who are interested in computer programming, but cannot fit Computer Math into their schedule. The course is advantageous to those who have a genuine interest in computer technology and wish to develop it further.

THREE COWBOY TEACHERS TURN IN THEIR RIDING GEAR

This year, two of Chaney's dedicated teachers will leave their profession for retirement. Mr. Cipollone, who has taught English, Spanish, and Italian for eight years at Chaney, has plans to retire in September of 1982. Although he hasn't thought much about retirement, he does agree that teaching has become tougher, and he will appreciate the break. In all his years of teaching, he admits that the most disappointing aspect of the career has been the drug scene in the schools. But, on the brighter side, the benefits of teaching have far outweighed the disadvantages for Mr. Cipollone. He has enjoyed meeting up with his successful former students, some of whom he hasn't seen in twenty or thirty years.

Our other cowboy, Mr. Markovich, also plans to retire in September. He has taught twenty years, two of them at Chaney. Mr. Markovich will miss the nice students at Chaney, as well as the great experience of teaching. He considers retirement a new beginning. To Mr. Markovich and Mr. Cipollone: Thank you both for all you have given to Chaney. Good luck and enjoy your retirement!

We all love Mr. Tanoff. After all, he's been a dedicated teacher at Chaney for twenty years. At last, however, this chapter of his life has come to an end. He has finally reached the turning point in his career. It is the end . . . and the beginning. Mr. Tanoff, who taught Senior Science and Chemistry at Chaney, has left Ohio teaching altogether after twenty years of service at this school. He has done so in order to pursue an entirely different and far more challenging goal. He will be teaching math and science to children of United States Military personnel in Bitburg, Germany. How did he happen to stumble upon this job? Having served ten years active and reserve duty in the United States Army and Air Force, he has always liked the military. With this in mind, he applied for the job in December 1981 at the U.S. Department of Defense. After being accepted, he was scheduled to leave on August 1, 1982, along with his wife, Anne Linea, who will be working as a nurse. Before the close of school in June, Mr. Tanoff told the 1982 Lariat that he will certainly miss the wonderful staff and students of Chaney. Well, Mr. Tanoff, we'll miss you also. Good luck!

Abey Studios

Photography As An Art
YOUNGSTOWN / WARREN, OHIO

1982 - filled with memories of headaches and heartaches; the big and the bad, the small and the meek. Those who looked good and those good-looking who made it somewhere.

When Reagan's wife made the news more than he did, and picking out the White House china was as big a laugh as the budget proposal was to the Democrats.

Whose face was most-admired and considered so macho, but Tom Selleck- alias Magnum P.I.?

The tragic deaths of super-star Natalie Wood and super-comedian John Belushi. "Pryor on fire" and "Pryor come-back and made it big."

Gala festivities as only the rich can do. The Royal Wedding came into our homes and the British Americans once more. Who from this royal union came forth a son and heir to the British throne, the Prince and Princess of Wales.

The assassination of Egypt's president, Anwar Sadat, and the "not-guilty-by-reason-of-insanity" verdict stated to John Hinckly Jr.'s assassination attempt on President Reagan.

More lay-offs hit the nation and in our own valley, many succumbed to the closing of the steel mills. The iron works which had once brought life and prosperity as it rolled out tons of steel, was knocked to the ground.

Leaky roofs gave way to a leaky investigation, as area proprietors fell victim to an FBI investigation concerning underworld collaborations.

And the ground had seen battle, as Britain and Argentina feuded to gain control over the Falkland Islands. A quiet dispute turned to violent rage, ending with the surrender of Argentinian troops.

Lest we forget the small things in life which amused and entertained us through the rat-race. Video games found their way into the home, and Pac Man into the hearts of thousands. Rubik's cube boosted a thousand solutions which many still have not found, and the Missing Link was found to be between man himself, rather than a puzzling game.

Video disk and video recorders, computerized stereos, 12 ft. television screens - the space-age dream come reality.

Punk rock and punk clothes and sailor shirts and gold shoes were taken in stride. Cowboy boots and leather hats: the domesticated Cowboy (or is that "urbanized"?)

Whatever it was that kept us together, or made it happen and let us survive, we will remember always, with a sigh, as we recapture, in our memories, the year 1982.

1982 LARIAT STAFF

We are the ones who have carried you through the trails of memory during the year of the Cowboy, 1981-82. You have met us daily here on the wild, wild west side deep in Cowboy territory. Some of you arrived each morning in your familiar yellow stagecoaches to greet us at the water holes or to spend time with us grubbin' in the chuck wagon or even to swap tales as we congregated in the old outhouses "to send smoke signals."

We've enjoyed each other's company whether we were wandering through the trails west, kicking up dust at the ball games or just biding time for the 3 o'clock stampede. Some us even rounded ourselves up for evenings in jail-house 222, but nevertheless, wherever we met, we hard ridin' quick shootin' Cowboys have sure enjoyed a whopper of a year doing something western.

PAINS IN THE POCKET

One day, as I was riding past the Maronite Center on Meridan Road in Youngstown, Ohio, I saw a sign that read, "Flea Market, May 16." I had to laugh, because it was the month of June. That sign brought back memories of Flea Markets and Concession Stands that I wished to forget. I looked out of the window and chuckled, almost not believing what I knew was true. There was the time when I arrived at the Flea Market, bright and early, at 8:00, only to discover that the yearbook booth had been cancelled. And then, the time I spent a whole period putting up posters in the halls at school to advertise the yearbook concession stand only to discover, next period, that someone had taken them down.

But, nothing can compare to the day that I was the manager of a Flea Market, and the day I went to the Foreign Languages Festival at YSU. On May 16, 1982, which was a Sunday, I had to get up at 6:00 in order to be there at 8:00, set up the tables, direct the volunteers (if there were any), write up weird announcements meant to draw customers to our booth, (which was nearly impossible) and finally, at the end of the day, take the un-sold stuff back home. Now you know how hard a Flea Market manager has to work!

And then there was the day when I was doing a skit in French with three other people at the Foreign Languages Day at YSU. I had a line that went, "Dieu merci vous etes ici," (thank-God you're here). But, I was so worried about the usual concession stand worries (late chips, unpaid IOU's) that I said instead, Dieu merci c'est vendredi, (thank-God it's Friday). And it was on a Saturday!

My name is Rebecca Tally and although I know I have to help raise funds for the yearbook, I don't care if I ever see a Flea Market or Concession Stand again!

At least we can say we had a good time preparing for the Frosh-Soph dance.

We won fair and square! 2nd period journalism takes break for snowflake contest.

Talk about dedication! M. Patrick is up to her teeth in trying to raise funds for the Lariat

Lori and Janis rejoice as staff meets deadline.

"Chief" Bill Topich keeps things under control at wrestling match concessions.

Our faithful NEMS rep., Mr. Mike Malie helps us with peppermint candy sales.

... and this seems to be the name of the game.

YEARBOOK STRUGGLES THROUGH DIFFICULT TIMES

Candid interview with Lariat advisor, Mr. Alicia Warren, conducted by Marilyn Patrick

You arrived at Chaney in 1980. What made you want to accept the responsibility of Yearbook Advisor?

A: I didn't want the position; however, I wanted a teaching contract, and yearbook was part of the package.

Q: Was the job what you expected it to be?

A: No, not in the least except for the work it entailed. We had no established budget, no financial assistance, no adult business manager, no yearbook office, no telephone, no typewriters, and the list could go on and on. I did find a group of students willing to get in there and work. We experienced difficulties, however. I found the full burden of going from room to room teaching 4 ninth grade Eng. classes-also new to Chaney-teaching a "rookie" group of yearbook staffers to design layouts, crop pictures, write copy, schedule photography sessions, keep everything organized, size, cut, and paste color photo pages, meet deadlines, mail pages, etc. plus raise the thousands of dollars needed to pay for the book just a bit more than I wanted to handle.

Q: How did the teachers' strike affect you in 1981?

A: It had a tremendous impact. At the time it began, we were on schedule. During the strike period, we were thrown off schedule. Then we were in school 6 days per week until the end of June. I didn't mail the last of the yearbook pages in until August 6th. My whole summer was spent working on the Lariat.

Q: How did you feel upon completion of the '81?

A: Relieved! I just thanked God that I was through with the major part.

Q: What made you take the '82?

A: A number of things. First, the '81 wasn't totally finished. The proofs for the final 100 pages weren't back, and I wanted to complete them. Too much of my life had gone into getting the yearbook published. I just couldn't quit before it was entirely finished. Then I was told that 43 people had signed up for Yearbook '82. I knew with 43 new students it was going to be unreal, but I thought with so many students working together we wouldn't have to worry about raising money. I was wrong.

Q: Undoubtedly, your major problems with yearbook have been in fundraising and heavy work load. How much does a yearbook cost?

A: Different prices. It depends upon what you get. Here, we try to take a moderate stand. With the community we have and the number of students in the school, it should be a snap to get a $20,000 book, but we can't even afford a $14,000 publication. If our book costs $12,500 and we sell only 425 copies at $15.00 each, we're only generating $6,375.00. We still have to raise $6,125.

Q: What makes it so expensive?

A: The size of the book, the number of pages, the color, etc. all add up. Everything has a price tag, you know. When I came here, Chaney had had seniors in full color 1 time in 50 years as far as I know, yet the rage and demand were for seniors in color. It still is. Against my better judgement, I agreed to the color with the understanding that the seniors couldn't have all of the color pages since the book is supposedly for the entire school. Besides, it's not color that makes a good book-it's skill in layout, writing, photography, coverage and basic journalism that determines a decent book. Some schools spent $25,000. Anyway, we raised the price of the '82 to $18.50. If the book is costing us $13,500 complete and we only sold 400 books, look where we stand. Right in a hole covering our heads.

Q: What is your proposal to combat this?

A: Sell more books or pay for what you want. If the '83 costs $12,000 and we sell 600 copies at $20.00 each, we won't have money problems, but if we only sell 400 copies at $20.00 we'll be in trouble again.

Q: Is $20.00 a lot to ask for a yearbook?

A: How many hours of work have we put into this book? How much do you pay for a pair of jeans? I think it's a matter of values and priorities.

Q: Does the School Board or the School contribute to activities such as Yearbook?

A: In some systems I'm certain that funds are delegated. At Chaney, however, the advisor is responsible for the whole kit 'n' kaboodle.

Q: Do you think that Yearbook is given adequate respect and recognition for the amount of importance that a school yearbook carries in future years?

A: Frankly, no. The yearbook is the most difficult task undertaken by any group at the school. It represents EVERYBODY at Chaney. No other team here does that. We related the story of the entire school year including commencement. Because of this, we should have the best writers, the most dedicated students, the hardest workers we can get to produce the school yearbook. We should have financial support and everything else we need to be successful.

Q: Do you think the general public is ignorant of the pressures involved in producing a yearbook?

A: Let me answer you by saying that I am the fourth yearbook advisor that Chaney has had in five years.

Q: Do you feel alone in the challenge of carrying the success of the Lariat on your shoulders?

A: Sometimes. Especially this year. Yearbook importance is not getting across. People don't realize that experienced students get even get jobs using the skills they master in yearbook journalism. They can get scholarships. I tend to think that all we're really interested in though is a picture book project.

Q: What does the phrase, "Anything for Yearbook" mean to you?

A: Today is June 30. We're here conducting yearbook business while everybody else is at home, or vacationing or spending time with their children. And I've got another two-three weeks of work to finish. It mean sleepless nights.

Q: Will you be returning for the '83 Lariat?

A: I don't have any idea. I received my lay-off notice again this year, so I really don't know.

Q: With all that yearbook involves, would you accept the position again?

A: There's an old saying, you know-"Three strikes and you're out". I've only had 2 strikes at it so, yes, I'd like my third strike. I think it takes at least 3 years with the same advisor and some experienced staff members to really achieve a polished look. The most important reason for coming back though is the dedicated students I did have this year. Some were on the trail diligently trying to get ads; some gave up their Sundays to man a table at the monthly Maronite flea market; some labored hours and hours trying to make pages as perfect as possible; some suffered frustration tracking down information, but they didn't give up; some came back for two weeks in the summer; some washed cars on Saturdays; some operated concessions on Friday and Saturday nights during basketball season; one even, with a broken wrist, lugged his camera around trying to make sure we had our photos; some gave tirelessly of themselves doing endless things to make The Lariat worthwhile. For them I would come back.

Q: What do you find rewarding about the production of a yearbook?

A: The beauty of seeing the pictures and words come alive on a completed page. The thrill of holding a tangible product representing a year's work in my hands. Work that students have done under my instruction. You know I've been accused of trying to "out-do" other advisors and of making everybody else work as hard as I do. I don't try to out-do, I just know that serious students "can do". I know that they must work hard to produce a yearbook of which they can be proud. After all, when you're spending thousands of dollars, you don't want a lemon.

Q: What would be your advice for '83 be?

A: Yearbook is important! Treat it with respect and handle it with care.

Thank you, God, for seeing us through another year.

Alicia M. Warren
Advisor, 1982 Lariat

A Cowboys' Farewell . . .

*And all our tears will dry
As we begin
The first step Toward our individual Roads to eternity . . .*

I can remember my first day at Chaney as if it was yesterday. When I first walked through those auditorium doors and read the words "Enter to Learn . . . Go Forth to Serve," I knew immediately that I was about to begin a long journey. Coming to Chaney was like getting off the small country roads and onto a highway. Like many others, I was often confused and unsure of where I was headed.

As time went on, I became comfortable at Chaney. I soon discovered others who were traveling the same road as I. We helped each other up the hills, and when times were good, we coasted down them together. Eventually, there came a day when we all had to acknowledge the fact that we were at last approaching the final stretch of our road.

My fellow Cowboys and I have covered many miles together since then. It's surprising how short this journey has seemed. Now, I must look around me and face the truth: This road has come to its end. It's up to me to select a new road and keep going. It won't always be easy, but at least I know I'm headed in the right direction.

*. . . And beyond
These hallowed halls
The first day
Of the rest of our lives
Begins . . .*

As I go through life, a part of my heart will always remain "Cowboy." Boldly, I'll make my way down the long road, with only my "horse" to accompany me. Together, we will move on, thankful that we are blessed with the company of each other. Now and then, I will think of Chaney, and recall the precious guidance and encouragement it has given me.

Class of '82, I will miss you. And Chaney . . . I will always love you.

*. . . Early as the dawn
We travel onward
Facing the sun
That rises in the East
High above
Chaney.*
